Candidate Statement:

I know what it takes to fight. After leaving home at 16, I worked three jobs in order to finish high school and put myself through college. There were several times, while sleeping in my car, that I felt like giving up, but I fought to keep the dream of a better life alive.

From unhoused student to community advocate and policy expert, I have consistently turned issue into action and never shied away from hard work. Whether co-founding a nonprofit to serve Sacramento's most vulnerable residents during a global pandemic or advocating for resources in my neighborhood, I have always believed that direct, community-led action is the most effective way to fight for change.

As a small business owner in District 5, I am committed to this community and believe it deserves proven leadership that will bring everyone to the table. We must focus on reducing poverty, building pathways to quality jobs, increasing our affordable housing supply, and ensuring equitable access to services.

If elected, I will lift up your voices and work to rebuild trust in government. I look forward to getting to work for you.
