Independent redistricting is coming to Sacramento — let’s make it people powered!

Help shape Sacramento! Serve on the City of Sacramento Independent Redistricting Commission.

Every 10 years, after the U.S. Census, the City of Sacramento reestablishes the boundaries for city council districts. This year an independent redistricting commission made up entirely of community members will be formed to set those boundaries in a process that is free from special interests, politics, and political influence.

The outcome of the independent redistricting process will affect the next ten years of Sacramento’s fiscal and developmental decisions. That is why it is important that city council district boundaries are defined by community members who understand and represent Sacramento’s diverse neighborhoods.

If you or someone you know is passionate about the City of Sacramento and wants to represent their neighborhood—encourage them to apply. Being a part of the SIRC is an important civic opportunity to influence the next decade of city decisions—make sure your neighborhood counts.
