A Message from the Director of YPCE, Mario Lara

National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA) research shows that inequitable access to parks remains a barrier to lifesaving benefits and that people are more likely to be park users if they live near one. This reality is true of many communities, not just ours here in the City of Sacramento. In its most recent ranking of the 100 most populated US cities, the Trust for Public Land included Equity as one of the five categories evaluated to determine overall ParkScore index. City of Sacramento ranked 31 out of 100 in the 2021 Trust for Public Land ParkScore ranking. Trust for Public Land information can be accessed here: 2021 ParkScore® Index | The Trust for Public Land (tpl.org)

It is critically important for all of us to remain committed to closing the park equity gaps, and this will continue to be a focus of the Youth, Parks, and Community Enrichment Department (YPCE – pronounced Yip-See). We are currently updating the Parks Master Plan and have conducted numerous surveys and stakeholder meetings to learn what the needs of the community are, and how the community wants and expects us to address equity. We anticipate the adoption of an updated Park Master Plan in the upcoming year; but have already been taking steps to apply the equity lens in everything that we do.

As we approach the end of 2021, it is important to reflect on the work done while keeping equity as a major consideration in all that we do. For example, despite the continuing challenges of a global pandemic, YPCE offered a wide range of both in-person and virtual programming at multiple community centers, school sites, pool facilities, and parks across the city. More scholarship opportunities than ever were made available to ensure that cost wasn’t a barrier, additional sites were added for summer camps; vaccination clinics were conducted in underserved communities in partnership with other entities; all outdoor spaces including over 220 developed parks and an historic cemetery remained open to the public and were maintained on a regular basis. Sports field allocation and park rentals and reservations resumed in alignment with public health orders. Staff also responded to fire emergencies impacting Camp Sacramento as well as weather related emergencies through the opening of warming/dry centers and cooling centers, when they were necessary, to support the unhoused and less fortunate individuals in our community. Many new park spaces were brought online with additional amenities including futsal courts, pickleball courts, heated pools, and a new outdoor fitness center. Many volunteer activities, clean up and tree planting events were conducted giving members of the community an opportunity to participate in and take ownership of their parks.

The YPCE team takes great pride in delivering quality programs and services for people of all ages and abilities. We appreciate your feedback and participation. We look forward to continuing to serve you in 2022.

Announcing the winners of the Youth Art Expo & Contest!

Sacramento youth shared with the City how they would shape the future of parks and recreation through photos, drawings, videos, and poetry. Their recommendations will be included in the Department of Youth, Parks, & Community Enrichment Parks Master Plan 2040, a guiding document to help Sacramento grow and respond to park and recreation needs over the next 20 years. The final art contest winners were selected by a Youth Advisory and Selection Committee made up of returning Summer at City Hall Youth and volunteering Youth Commissioners. The art pieces below will be receiving the top prize of $300 each. Also, there are 12 honorable mentions that will be receiving $50 each.

Muhammad, Age 14-15

Tell us a little bit about your submission! What was it inspired by?

Though I am not a good artist, I decided to make an original drawing that was not inspired by any specific location, but parks as a whole. I wanted to include the diversity within our parks, those who keep it maintained, and the different activities available. This is why I have two hands creating a tree, to represent diversity and how parks are a direct link to nature. I also included a worker trimming bushes to honor maintenance staff that are often overlooked and underappreciated. There are many different activities, like biking and playing on playgrounds, as well as a diverse group of trees to represent Sacramento, "The City of Trees."

Samantha, Age 16-18

Tell us a little bit about your submission! What was it inspired by?

North Natomas Community Park - This is a park near my house. Miller Park - Miller park is a park I've grown up with. I remember having birthday parties, baby showers, and sunny days at this park. I would make the park more accessible. I would love for people to get the same enjoyment out of the park as I do.

This has been my favorite park since I was a child. I used to go there roughly once a month with my grandmother when I was a child, but now that COVID has spread and my grandmother has passed away, I don't get to go as often. I'd like to see more accessibility for people with disabilities.

Alexandra, Age 19-24

Tell us a little bit about your submission! What was it inspired by?

McKinley is a park I used to visit with my grandmother when I was a child, we used to throw bread into the pond or stare at the ducks. I fondly remember the beauty of the trees in the park. It has a special place in my heart. I often go there with my younger siblings. I mainly care for them and wish to give them the same enjoyment out of the park as me. To improve things, I believe we should enlist the help of more people to clean the ponds and keep the park safe from danger. This work of art was inspired by my childhood visits to the McKinley area, and it was created primarily from my fond recollections of the park, the lovely woods, and the crystal blue lake. It depicts the beauty that I discovered as a child in the park, which is what I remember the most. This work of art is made up of recollections of the park as well as photographs shot there.
Oki Park Playground Renovation

The Oki Park playground was renovated in April 2021, and the improvements include replacing the existing playground equipment with new children’s dinosaur exploration-themed playground equipment, a 4-wheel vehicle, 2-seat seesaw, belt, ADA and tot swings, wood fiber playground surfacing, replacement of the playground access ramp and two tubular steel entry gates, and planting shade trees.

Following the State of California’s reopening on June 15, the City’s Department of Youth, Parks, & Community Enrichment (YPCE) will enact a phased reopening of community centers throughout the summer. Meanwhile, YPCE is currently offering multiple pre-registered, in-person options for families and children.

“We are excited that California has removed many of its COVID-19 restrictions, and now YPCE is working to safely reopen our services fully to the public,” said Director of Youth, Parks, & Community Enrichment Mario Lara.

Scheduled programming has already resumed including youth camps, youth classes, and senior fitness. Triple R Adult Day Program has also resumed limited programming at Hart Senior Center, park picnic reservations are available, and the City has opened 14 pools to the public this summer.

Currently, City community centers are not open for public drop-in visits, fitness centers, facility rentals and larger group programs.

“Due to the nature of these programs being geared toward youth who are still required to wear masks and are unvaccinated, and toward seniors who are considered a vulnerable population, we will continue to take extra precautions at community centers for now,” Lara said.

Youth, Parks, & Community Enrichment is also hiring for multiple positions to get more staff back into the community centers in preparation for reopening fully to the public. Those interested in applying should visit governmentjobs.com and search for Recreation Aide, Building Monitor and/or Custodian positions.

“Bear with us as we get more staffing so we can bring additional services back online including fitness centers and facility rentals,” Lara said.

YPCE staff will continue to offer customer service via phone (916-808-6060) and email at srecreation@cityofsacramento.org. Residents may also contact the community centers directly for assistance.

Residents are also encouraged to register for a Come Out and Play Card to sign up for available classes and events, and to stay up-to-date with Youth, Parks, & Community Enrichment news.

Let's look back at Parks and Recreation Month!
This year's theme for Park and Recreation Month was "Our Park and Recreation Story." During the month of July, we celebrated memories created through Youth, Parks, and Community Enrichment by highlighting stories of how our communities are stronger and more vibrant because of Parks and Recreation.

"Being in Camp Sac in particular and being a part of the management team for our 100th year is super important to me, as I have a million memories that I can draw from like learning to shoot a bow and arrow here and going on my first hikes here... It's great that I get to keep building those memories and be a part of creating those memories for other people as well."
- Chad Richardson, Assistant Camp Sacramento Supervisor

"I am taking Water Aerobics classes 6 days a week this summer. That's 59 classes! The instructors' enthusiasm gives me the energy to complete difficult workouts. I appreciate how the instructors introduce new exercises and offer modifications for some like myself, who may need them. I am definitely feeling the workouts, getting into shape, and love the community I've found at the pool!"
- Anonymous

"The Department of Youth, Parks, & Community Enrichment has a Parks Maintenance Employee that began in 1995 as a Youth Aide in the Landscape and Learning Program...Once he finished and was old enough, he started his career as an entry-level park worker. Now he is a lead within Park Maintenance Operations and has worked for the City for over 25 years! He has a great story and is a wonderful example of how our program works."
- L&L Program Supervisor Angelia Manuel

Community Gardener John Hunt grew this large pumpkin in his 20 x 20 plot at the Martin Luther King, Jr. Community Garden, one of 15 community gardens in the City’s program. The pumpkin was growing at a rate of 35 pounds with a 4” increase in circumference each day at the height of its growing. Its end weight was almost 900 pounds!

Camp Sacramento has been a cherished place for generations of Sacramento Valley residents. From its inception 100 years ago, Camp Sacramento’s historic “return to nature” focus has offered a unique family getaway experience for participants of all ages to reflect, reconnect, and refresh. What has started as an effort to reintroduce and reintegrate urban population back to natural environment, continued through the decades of camp service to unplug, celebrate the natural environment, and enjoy fellowship and comradery of a camp community.

Today, our programs not only offer fun and engaging one-of-a-kind family getaway to unwind, but also offers intentional environmental education and stewardship opportunities.

Situated on about 14 acres of U.S. Forest Service land in the El Dorado National Forest, Camp Sacramento boasts a serene mountain respite at 6,500ft elevation only a short stretch east from City of Sacramento and just 17 miles from the beautiful South Lake Tahoe. Scandinavian Dance
Many people around the U.S. enjoy the enchanting movement and music of the traditional folk dances of the Scandinavian countries (Denmark, Finland, Greenland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden, & the Faroe Islands). Although these dances originated in specific geographic areas populated by specific ethnic groups, today they are enjoyed by people of diverse ethnic groups, and there is no expectation that one's ancestors came from Scandinavia. All that is required is an appreciation of the beautiful and moving music and dance from this part of the world.
