Councilmember Sandy Sheedy Invites Children and Families to Attend the Robertson Park Egg Hunt

Sacramento, California, April 4, 2007—Many people remember, as part of their childhood memories, the experience of hunting for brightly colored eggs in their backyard, at community centers, or in public parks. Councilmember Sandy Sheedy invites all those who wish to share this special experience with their children, family, or friends to attend the Robertson Park Egg Hunt.

The Robertson Park Egg Hunt will be one that children remember for years. It will feature over 15,000 eggs filled with candy, a humongous jump house, games played by past and present generations, arts and crafts that promote learning and discovery, tasty cookies and treats; and of course, a visit from an adorable, egg-loving Bunny.

“Spring is the best season in Sacramento. What better way to celebrate than for the community to come together and have fun,” said Councilmember Sandy Sheedy, the event’s sponsor.

Robertson Park is located at 3525 Norwood Avenue. Anyone who wishes to take part in what is sure to be a memorable Egg Hunt should call (916) 808-3821 for more information.

The public and media are invited to attend this event.
