National History Day is a year-long educational program that encourages students to explore local, state, national, and world history. After selecting a historical topic that relates to an annual theme, students conduct extensive research by using libraries, archives, museums, and oral history interviews. They analyze and interpret their findings, draw conclusions about their topics' significance in history, and create final projects that present their work. These projects can be entered into a series of competitions, from the local to the national level, where they are evaluated by professional historians, educators, and other volunteer judges. The theme for the 2011 National History Day competition is Debate & Diplomacy In History: Successes, Failures, Consequences.

More information about National History Day can be found at www.sachistoryday.org.
