MONTHLY HIGHLIGHTS

U.S. fixed income markets rose as the Federal Reserve Board cut the fed funds rate by an assertive 50 basis points. Liquidity returned and a broad-based gain ensued in spread sectors following the Fed action. We believe that the Fed's intervention should go a long way in returning stability and liquidity to the financial markets. During the month the Pool had a net cash outflow of about $4 million. We continued to see the best value in short-term certificate of deposits and commercial paper versus longer-term securities and government securities. The only activity to note was a Freddie Mac with a 6% coupon purchased in June was called by the lender.
