City Offers Free Water Conservation Class to Help Residents Be Water Smart

WHO/ WHAT:

The City of Sacramento Department of Utilities is presenting a FREE workshop to help customers use water wisely and learn the in's and out's of the City's recently revised Water Conservation Ordinance. Taught by certified Water Conservation Specialists, the workshop will provide tips and tools for creating a water wise landscape. It is also an opportunity for those customers who have been fined by the City for a second notice of violation to have their fine waived.

WHEN/ WHERE:

Saturday, January 30, 2010
10 a.m.-Noon
City of Sacramento Water Conservation Office
2260 Glen Ellen Circle
Sacramento, CA 95822

WHY:

The City of Sacramento is committed to helping customers use water wisely. The City also believes that educating its residents about City Codes helps to limit confusion and violations of the Water Conservation ordinance. The workshop will help residents find ways to have water efficient landscapes while staying within City codes for watering.

For more information about this FREE class, please call 311 or email jfriedman@cityofsacramento.org.
