Who is Guo Pei? A World Famous Couture Dressmaker!

Guo Pei was born in Beijing in 1967 and has been fascinated by dressmaking since the age of 2. She graduated with a degree in Fashion Design in 1986, then worked for a Chinese clothing manufacturer before forming her own company in 1997. Gaining reput in the early 2000's, her pieces are known for their elaborate hand stitching and details that take many hours to complete.

Guo Pei created designs for Rhianna (her 2015 Met Gala yellow cape dress), China Central Television for its annual Spring Festival Galas, and the 2008 Summer Olympics including a dress (adorned with 200,000 Swarovski Crystals) for singer, Song Zuying, to wear during her closing ceremony performance with Plácido Domingo.

"As a creator and artist, there is no greater honor or privilege than to share my creativity with a wider audience. I am therefore honored and humbled that the prestigious Legion of Honor Museum is presenting a retrospective of my work. In doing so, I hope that it brings greater awareness and understanding of my life's passion, conveys Chinese culture and traditions, and shows the new face of contemporary China." -- Guo Pei, Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco
